Features of the Palm WebOS Plug-In Development Kit (PDK): · Create packaged apps using the Palm WebOS Application Packager (WAPP) · Install and debug your apps on the device using the ADK (Android Debug Kit) and XE2 · Create and build your webOS applications in your IDE and install them on the device. · Build JavaScript apps for both desktops and devices · Create programs that use OpenGL ES 1.1 or 2.0 · Provide the Palm Development Library (PDL) if you need to add your own functionality to the API in the core libraries. Palm WebOS Plug-In Development Kit (PDK) Features: · Create packaged apps using the Palm WebOS Application Packager (WAPP) The Palm WebOS Application Packager (WAPP) is a utility that you can use to package your apps into a webOS application (app) package, and output a ready-to-use Web Applications Installer (WAI) package. Using the Palm webOS Application Packager (WAPP) you can reduce the effort of creating, packaging and testing webOS apps. The Palm WebOS Application Packager (WAPP) outputs a WAI package as well as XML metadata such as metadata about your app as an app package. It can create a WAI package for an existing app or you can use the free Palm WebOS Application Packager (WAPP) for creating and packaging your own webOS applications. The Palm WebOS Application Packager (WAPP) can be used for creating packaged app that can be installed on your Palm Pre, Palm Pixi, or Palm Pixi Plus. The packaged apps can be installed on any type of Palm Pre/Pixi or Palm Pre-merge device that runs webOS 1.0.1 or higher. Palm Pre, Palm Pixi and Palm Pixi Plus devices support additional features of the WAPP such as downloading additional applications. More specifically, the following are the features of the Palm WebOS Application Packager (WAPP): · Create packaged webOS applications for the Palm Pre and Palm Pixi devices running webOS 1.0.1 and higher. · Package your existing webOS applications for webOS installation or for deployment on a range of webOS devices such as the Palm Pre and Palm Pixi devices, or the WebOS-based Pixi Plus. · Create a WAI package for an existing application. · Create
